Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

The National Response Framework (NRF):

- Is a guide to how the Nation conducts all-hazards response.
- Builds upon the National Incident Management System (NIMS) coordinating structures to align key roles and responsibilities across the Nation, linking all levels of government, nongovernmental organizations, and the private sector.

The NRF is comprised of:

- The Core Document, which describes the doctrine that guides our national response, roles and responsibilities, response actions, response organizations, and planning requirements to achieve an effective national response to any incident that occurs.
- Emergency Support Function Annexes, which identify Federal resources and capabilities that are most frequently needed in a national response (e.g., transportation, firefighting, mass care).
- Support Annexes, which describe essential supporting aspects that are common to all incidents (e.g., financial management, volunteer and donations management, private-sector coordination).
- Incident Annexes, which address the unique aspects of how we respond to seven broad categories or types of incidents (e.g., biological, nuclear/radiological, cyber, mass evacuation).
- Partner Guides, which provide ready references describing key roles and actions for local, tribal, State, Federal, and private-sector response partners.

ESF Overview

Display Visual 5

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

The Federal Government and many State governments organize many of their resources and capabilities—as well as those of certain private-sector and nongovernmental organizations—under Emergency Support Functions (ESFs).

The ESFs:

- Are coordinated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) through the National Response Coordination Center (NRCC), Regional Response Coordination Centers (RRCCs), and Joint Field Offices (JFOs).
- Are a critical mechanism to coordinate functional capabilities and resources provided by Federal departments and agencies, along with certain private-sector and nongovernmental organizations.

Note that some States also have organized an ESF structure along this approach.

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

Review the general ESF duties listed on the visual.

Why is it important that ESFs have the authority to commit agency assets?

ESF Overview

Display Visual 7

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

The ESF structure includes:

- ESF Coordinator. The entity assigned to manage oversight for a particular ESF.
- Primary Agencies. ESF primary agencies are Federal agencies with significant authorities, resources, or capabilities for a particular function within an ESF. A Federal agency designated as an ESF primary agency serves as a Federal executive agent under the Federal Coordinating Officer (or Federal Resource Coordinator for non-Stafford Act incidents) to accomplish the ESF mission.
- Support Agencies. Support agencies are those entities with specific capabilities or resources that support the primary agencies in executing the mission of the ESF.

ESFs provide support to other ESFs. For example: ESF #3 – Public Works and Engineering may support rural ESF #5 – Emergency Management forces to obtain heavy equipment and/or demolition services as needed to suppress incident-related fires.

ESF Overview

Display Visual 8

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

The ESF coordinator has management oversight for that particular ESF.

Note that, as described on the visual, the ESF coordinator has a role throughout the incident management cycle.

ESF Overview

Display Visual 9

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

When an ESF is activated in response to an incident:

- The primary agency is responsible for:
 - Serving as a Federal executive agent under the Federal Coordinating Officer (or Federal Resource Coordinator for non-Stafford Act incidents) to accomplish the ESF mission.
 - Orchestrating Federal support within its functional area for an affected State.
 - Providing staff for the operations functions at fixed and field facilities.
 - Notifying and requesting assistance from support agencies.
 - Managing mission assignments and coordinating with support agencies and appropriate State agencies.
 - Working with appropriate private-sector organizations to maximize use of all available resources.
 - Supporting and keeping other ESFs and organizational elements informed of ESF operational priorities and activities.
 - Maintaining trained personnel to support interagency emergency response and support teams.
- Support agencies are responsible for:
 - Conducting operations, when requested by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) or the designated ESF primary agency, using their own authorities, subject-matter experts, capabilities, or resources.
 - Participating in planning for short- and long-term incident management and recovery operations and the development of supporting operational plans, standard operating procedures (SOPs), checklists, or other job aids, in concert with existing first-responder standards.
 - Assisting in the conduct of situational assessments.
 - Furnishing available personnel or other resource support as requested by DHS or the ESF primary agency.
 - Providing input to periodic readiness assessments.
 - Participating in training and exercises aimed at continuous improvement of response and recovery capabilities.
 - Identifying new equipment or capabilities required to prevent or respond to new or emerging threats and hazards, or to improve the ability to address existing threats.

ESF Overview

Display Visual 10

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

ESFs may be selectively activated for both Stafford Act and non-Stafford Act incidents under circumstances as defined in Homeland Security Presidential Directive 5 (HSPD-5). Not all incidents requiring Federal support result in the activation of ESFs.

FEMA can deploy assets and capabilities through ESFs into an area in anticipation of an approaching storm or event that is expected to cause a significant impact and result. This coordination through ESFs allows FEMA to position Federal support for a quick response, though actual assistance cannot normally be provided until the Governor requests and receives a Presidential major disaster or emergency declaration.

The ESF #6 mass care function includes sheltering, feeding operations, emergency first aid, bulk distribution of emergency items, and collecting and providing information on survivors to family members.

The lead State agency for mass care works at the direction of the Governor to ensure mass care services are provided to the affected population. When requested, FEMA, in its role as ESF #6 lead, coordinates closely with the State ESF #6 lead to provide Federal mass care resources to support and augment mass care capabilities.

Emergency Assistance

Display Visual 18

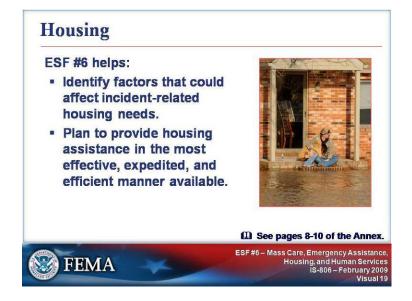

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

Federal emergency assistance under ESF #6 helps ensure that immediate needs beyond the scope of the traditional "mass care" services provided at the local level are addressed. These services include:

Display Visual 20

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

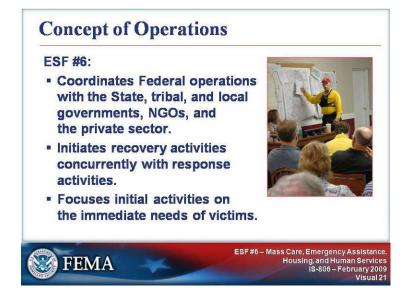

Federal human services programs help disaster survivors recover their nonhousing losses, including replacement of destroyed personal property, and help them obtain disaster loans, foods stamps, crisis counseling, disaster unemployment, case management, and other Federal and State benefits.

Examples of programs included under human services include:

- Crisis Counseling.
- Individuals and Households Program: Other Needs Assistance.
- Disaster Case Management.
- Survivors of Crime Assistance.
- Disaster Unemployment Assistance.
- Veterans Assistance.
- Disaster Legal Services.

Concept of Operations

Display Visual 21

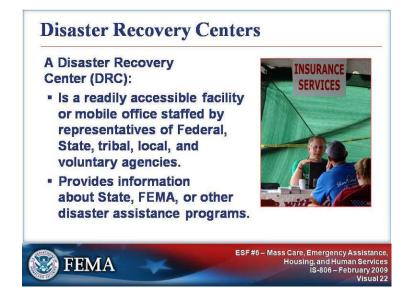

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

At the onset of an incident, ESF #6:

- Coordinates Federal response and recovery operations by working closely with the State, tribal, and local governments, nongovernmental organizations, and the private sector.
- Initiates recovery activities concurrently with response activities.
- Focuses initial response activities on the immediate needs of victims.

Disaster Recovery Centers

Display Visual 22

Instructor Notes: Present the following key points.

The Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) is a readily accessible facility or mobile office where applicants can go for information about State, FEMA, or other disaster assistance programs, or for questions related to their case.

DRCs are staffed by representatives of Federal, State, tribal, local, and voluntary agencies. By visiting a DRC, people who have registered for assistance can get more information or help with the registration process.

ESF #6 – Knowledge Review

1. Who is the ESF #6 coordinator?

Answer: FEMA

- 2. Which of the following actions would be included in the scope of ESF #6?
 - a) Identifying victims in the aftermath of a hurricane.
 - b) Helping people affected by the incident obtain SBA loans.
 - c) Providing followup medical care for injuries sustained during an earthquake.
 - d) Providing mass inoculations for infectious diseases after a flood.
- Read the following scenario, and then identify a priority action to address needs of individuals under ESF #6 for representatives at the Federal and State levels, and representatives of nongovernmental organizations (NGOs).

Scenario: Three days ago, heavy rain began falling over several rural counties in the southwestern portion of Virginia. The event has caused flash flooding and mudslides, resulting in the isolation of families from their homes, local evacuations, and significant damage to private and public property. A Presidential disaster declaration was issued today.

Sample Answers:

- National and regional ESF #6 representatives coordinate with State, tribal, and local governments and NGOs and the private sector to assess the situation, identify immediate needs of survivors (e.g., possible evacuation as more areas are flooded; shelter locations; mass care; special needs).
- Concurrently address recovery issues by continuing to assess the situation and identify resources (e.g., available housing stock).
- Coordinate with Federal and State agencies; reach out to voluntary organizations to match services to needs.
- Assist the ESF #6 Section at the Regional Response Coordination Center (RRCC) and Joint Field Office (JFO) as necessary.

4. Match the activities with the ESF #6 support agencies that perform them.

	Activities		Support Agencies
