Course: E0101 Foundations of Emergency Management Course Offerings for Fiscal Year (FY) 2015

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) National Emergency Management Basic Academy

Dates and Location:

April 13–24, 2015	Emmitsburg, MD
July 6–17, 2015	Emmitsburg, MD

Course Description:

FEMA recognizes the need to tie training programs to an established set of emergency management competencies and to a career development program through a progressive training and education system that includes the National Emergency Management Basic Academy. Training objectives are based on emergency management competencies that the National Emergency Management Association (NEMA), the International Association of Emergency Managers (IAEM), and local, state, territorial, and tribal emergency management professionals have established in coordination with the Emergency Management Institute (EMI).

The following topics in emergency management are covered in this course: legal issues, intergovernmental and interagency context, influencing, organizing, serving the whole community issues, managing stress, collaboration, preparedness, team building, protection and prevention, mitigation, response, ethical decision-making, recovery, technology, administration, and the future.

Course Goal:

At completion of this course, students will have a basic knowledge of the history of doctrine and authorities of emergency management, the role of the emergency manager, and an overview of all hazards.

Course Length:

Each Foundations course is 10 days in length with the weekend off after the fifth day of instruction. Class resumes on Monday through Friday for the final 5 days of instruction the second week. Travel days are Sunday of the first week, and Saturday of the second week.

Prerequisites:

The following courses are mandatory prerequisites to this course:

- IS 100 (any version) – Introduction to the Incident Command System (ICS)
- IS 700 (any version) – National Incident Management System (NIMS), An Introduction
- IS 800 – National Response Framework, An Introduction
- IS 230 – Fundamentals of Emergency Management

This E0101 course is a prerequisite to take before taking E0102, E0103, E0104, and E0105 to complete the National Emergency Management Basic Academy.

Continuing Education Units (CEU's):

EMI awards 8.0 CEUs for completion of this course.

Target Audience:

This course is intended for newly appointed emergency managers from state, local, territorial, tribal, and Federal emergency management agencies, and prospective professionals transferring from another discipline to emergency management. Veteran emergency managers willing to mentor are also welcome to apply.
