

Emergency Management Institute Announces Launch of Digital Resource Center for Grants Management Technical Assistance Program

This Bulletin announces a new resource center for non-federal entities that receive federal financial assistance from FEMA. This Grants Management Website (<https://training.fema.gov/grantsmanagement/>) is administered by FEMA's Grants Management Technical Assistance (GMTA) program, a division of the Grants Program Directorate (GPD), and contains practical information and resources on all aspects of grants management, from laying the foundations for project development to preparing an application for a FEMA award to evaluation and closeout.

This website serves as a supplement to the E705 Fundamentals of Grants Management Course (<https://www.fema.gov/fundamentals-grants-management-course-e705>), which GMTA conducts at EMI Headquarters and across the country with grant recipients throughout the year; although in-person, instructor-led trainings are currently limited due to the continuing COVID-19 pandemic, this new digital resource center is an asset to non-federal entities seeking specific, targeted assistance.

GMTA will be updating these pages with new information and resources, so please check back on a regular basis.
