Key Points

The National Response Framework (NRF):

- Is a guide to how the Nation conducts all-hazards response.
- Builds upon the National Incident Management System (NIMS) coordinating structures to align key roles and responsibilities across the Nation, linking all levels of government, nongovernmental organizations, and the private sector.

The NRF is comprised of:

- The Core Document, which describes the doctrine that guides our national response, roles and responsibilities, response actions, response organizations, and planning requirements to achieve an effective national response to any incident that occurs.
- Emergency Support Function Annexes, which identify Federal resources and capabilities that are most frequently needed in a national response (e.g., transportation, firefighting, mass care).
- Support Annexes, which describe essential supporting aspects that are common to all incidents (e.g., financial management, volunteer and donations management, private-sector coordination).
- Incident Annexes, which address the unique aspects of how we respond to seven broad categories or types of incidents (e.g., biological, nuclear/radiological, cyber, mass evacuation).
- Partner Guides, which provide ready references describing key roles and actions for local, tribal, State, Federal, and private-sector response partners.
The Federal Government and many State governments organize many of their resources and capabilities—as well as those of certain private-sector and nongovernmental organizations—under Emergency Support Functions (ESFs).

The ESFs:

- Are coordinated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) through the National Response Coordination Center (NRCC), Regional Response Coordination Centers (RRCCs), and Joint Field Offices (JFOs).
- Are a critical mechanism to coordinate functional capabilities and resources provided by Federal departments and agencies, along with certain private-sector and nongovernmental organizations.

Note that some States also have organized an ESF structure along this approach.
Key Points

Review the general ESF duties listed on the visual.

Why is it important that ESFs have the authority to commit agency assets?
Key Points

The ESF structure includes:

- ESF Coordinator. The entity assigned to manage oversight for a particular ESF.
- Primary Agencies. ESF primary agencies are Federal agencies with significant authorities, resources, or capabilities for a particular function within an ESF. A Federal agency designated as an ESF primary agency serves as a Federal executive agent under the Federal Coordinating Officer (or Federal Resource Coordinator for non-Stafford Act incidents) to accomplish the ESF mission.
- Support Agencies. Support agencies are those entities with specific capabilities or resources that support the primary agencies in executing the mission of the ESF.

ESFs provide support to other ESFs. For example: ESF #3 – Public Works and Engineering may support rural ESF #5 – Emergency Management forces to obtain heavy equipment and/or demolition services as needed to suppress incident-related fires.
Key Points

The ESF coordinator has management oversight for that particular ESF.

Note that, as described on the visual, the ESF coordinator has a role throughout the incident management cycle.

Key Points

When an ESF is activated in response to an incident:

- The primary agency is responsible for:
  - Serving as a Federal executive agent under the Federal Coordinating Officer (or Federal Resource Coordinator for non-Stafford Act incidents) to accomplish the ESF mission.
  - Orchestrating Federal support within its functional area for an affected State.
  - Providing staff for the operations functions at fixed and field facilities.
  - Notifying and requesting assistance from support agencies.
  - Managing mission assignments and coordinating with support agencies and appropriate State agencies.
  - Working with appropriate private-sector organizations to maximize use of all available resources.
  - Supporting and keeping other ESFs and organizational elements informed of ESF operational priorities and activities.
  - Maintaining trained personnel to support interagency emergency response and support teams.

- Support agencies are responsible for:
  - Conducting operations, when requested by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) or the designated ESF primary agency, using their own authorities, subject-matter experts, capabilities, or resources.
  - Participating in planning for short- and long-term incident management and recovery operations and the development of supporting operational plans, standard operating procedures (SOPs), checklists, or other job aids, in concert with existing first-responder standards.
  - Assisting in the conduct of situational assessments.
  - Furnishing available personnel or other resource support as requested by DHS or the ESF primary agency.
  - Providing input to periodic readiness assessments.
  - Participating in training and exercises aimed at continuous improvement of response and recovery capabilities.
  - Identifying new equipment or capabilities required to prevent or respond to new or emerging threats and hazards, or to improve the ability to address existing threats.
ESFs may be selectively activated for both Stafford Act and non-Stafford Act incidents under circumstances as defined in Homeland Security Presidential Directive 5 (HSPD-5). Not all incidents requiring Federal support result in the activation of ESFs.

FEMA can deploy assets and capabilities through ESFs into an area in anticipation of an approaching storm or event that is expected to cause a significant impact and result. This coordination through ESFs allows FEMA to position Federal support for a quick response, though actual assistance cannot normally be provided until the Governor requests and receives a Presidential major disaster or emergency declaration.
Key Points

The 15 ESFs are listed on the visual. The complete ESF Annexes are available at the NRF Resource Center at www.fema.gov/nrf.

This course focuses on ESF #6 – Mass Care, Emergency Assistance, Housing, and Human Services.

Describe your roles or associations with ESF #6.
ESF #6 – Mass Care, Emergency Assistance, Housing, and Human Services coordinates the delivery of mass care, emergency assistance, housing, and human services when local, tribal, and State response and recovery needs exceed their capabilities.

ESF #6 works with response partners at all levels of government, nongovernmental organizations, and the private sector to facilitate the delivery of needed services and assistance.

Refer to the purpose statement on page 1 of the ESF #6 – Mass Care, Emergency Assistance, Housing, and Human Services Annex.
Federal assistance to supplement State, tribal, and local resources may include:

- Mass Care
- Emergency Assistance
- Housing
- Human Services

More information will be presented about each of these functions later in the lesson.
DHS/FEMA is the ESF #6 coordinator and primary agency. As ESF #6 primary agency, DHS/FEMA’s responsibilities include:

- Coordinating and resolving national-level ESF #6 issues.
- Addressing Regional Response Coordination Center (RRCC) requests for additional Federal ESF #6 support teams and deconflicting multiple requests for limited resources.
- Contacting and activating national-level ESF #6 support agencies, as required.
- Providing consolidated reports on mass care, emergency assistance, housing, and human services activities to the National Response Coordination Center (NRCC) Planning Section for inclusion in the national situation report.
- Distributing ESF #6 information to ESF #6 support agencies, as appropriate.

More information can be found on page 6 of the ESF #6 – Mass Care, Emergency Assistance, Housing, and Human Services Annex.
Key Points

The ESF #6 support agencies include:

- Department of Health and Human Services
- Department of Homeland Security
- Department of Housing and Urban Development
- Department of Veterans Affairs
- General Services Administration
- Small Business Administration
- Social Security Administration
- U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
- U.S. Postal Service

Refer to pages 11-22 of the ESF #6 Annex for more information about the roles of the support agencies.
Voluntary Agency Partners

National Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster partner agencies help by:
- Offering food and shelter.
- Distributing donated goods.
- Caring for household pets and service animals.
- Making temporary home repairs.

Key Points

Volunteer-based organizations provide critical assistance in the initial response phase of an incident, typically in partnership with local and State governments. National Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (National VOAD) partner agencies support the ESF #6 mission by:

- Offering food and shelter.
- Distributing donated goods.
- Caring for household pets and service animals.
- Making temporary home repairs.
Key Points

The ESF #6 mass care function includes sheltering, feeding operations, emergency first aid, bulk distribution of emergency items, and collecting and providing information on survivors to family members.

The lead State agency for mass care works at the direction of the Governor to ensure mass care services are provided to the affected population. When requested, FEMA, in its role as ESF #6 lead, coordinates closely with the State ESF #6 lead to provide Federal mass care resources to support and augment mass care capabilities.
Key Points

Federal emergency assistance under ESF #6 helps ensure that immediate needs beyond the scope of the traditional “mass care” services provided at the local level are addressed. These services include:

- Support to evacuations (including registration and tracking of evacuees).
- Provision of aid and services to special needs populations.
- Evacuation, sheltering, and other emergency services for household pets and service animals.
- Support to specialized shelters.
- Support to medical shelters.
- Nonconventional shelter management.
- Coordination of donated goods and services.
- Coordination of voluntary agency assistance.
- FEMA coordinates resources and emergency assistance in support of local, tribal, and State governments, voluntary agencies, and the private sector to augment their mass care response activities.
Key Points

The ESF #6 housing function includes options such as:

- Financial assistance for rent.
- Financial assistance for repairs.
- Loan assistance.
- Financial assistance for replacement.
- Direct housing, usually factory-built housing.
- Semipermanent and permanent construction.
- Housing resource referrals.
- Identification and provision of accessible housing.
- Access to other sources of housing assistance.

This assistance is guided by the National Disaster Housing Strategy.
Key Points

Federal human services programs help disaster survivors recover their nonhousing losses, including replacement of destroyed personal property, and help them obtain disaster loans, foods stamps, crisis counseling, disaster unemployment, case management, and other Federal and State benefits.

Examples of programs included under human services include:

- Crisis Counseling.
- Individuals and Households Program: Other Needs Assistance.
- Disaster Case Management.
- Survivors of Crime Assistance.
- Disaster Unemployment Assistance.
- Veterans Assistance.
- Disaster Legal Services.
Key Points

At the onset of an incident, ESF #6:

- Coordinates Federal response and recovery operations by working closely with the State, tribal, and local governments, nongovernmental organizations, and the private sector.
- Initiates recovery activities concurrently with response activities.
- Focuses initial response activities on the immediate needs of victims.
Topic: Disaster Recovery Centers

Display Visual 22

Disaster Recovery Centers

- A Disaster Recovery Center (DRC):
  - Is a readily accessible facility or mobile office staffed by representatives of Federal, State, tribal, local, and voluntary agencies.
  - Provides information about State, FEMA, or other disaster assistance programs.

Key Points

The Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) is a readily accessible facility or mobile office where applicants can go for information about State, FEMA, or other disaster assistance programs, or for questions related to their case.

DRCs are staffed by representatives of Federal, State, tribal, local, and voluntary agencies. By visiting a DRC, people who have registered for assistance can get more information or help with the registration process.
Key Points

The National Processing Service Centers (NPSCs) are FEMA’s centralized facilities for processing disaster assistance. NPSCs:

- Process applications (online or via Teleregistration).
- Process requests for housing assistance.
- Refer applicants to the SBA loan program.
- Record needed data to order and process inspections.
- Answer questions from applicants via the “helpline.”
- Provide information about State and local disaster assistance.
