

Angelo State University – Border Security and Homeland Security, Emergency Management Certificate Programs

Our border (undergraduate) and homeland security (graduate) programs are open to any students, and have been designed to meet the specific interests of military students. The curriculum covers terrorism and counter-terrorism; chemical, biological and radiological hazards and responses; federal immigration laws; and international drug/human trafficking. Each program offers a certificate in Emergency Management.

All undergraduate certificate programs require an overall 2.00 grade point average and a grade of at least a “C” in each required class. All course work for certificates must be taken in-residence; transfer credits from other institutions will not apply towards certificate programs.

All graduate certificate programs require an overall 3.00 grade point average and a grade of at least a “B” in each required class. All course work for certificates must be taken in-residence; transfer credits from other institutions will not apply towards certificate programs.
