

Eastern Kentucky University - Homeland Security Program (Undergraduate)

Eastern Kentucky University's Homeland Security Bachelor's degree program combines a diverse set of major and supporting courses, university general education requirements, and free electives.

Eastern Kentucky University's homeland security program is housed in the College of Justice & Safety, which also offers degree programs in fire protection & safety engineering technology, fire protection administration, fire, arson and explosion investigation, emergency medical care, occupational safety, police studies, criminal justice, and social justice.

The homeland security program builds on the college's strengths and faculty with years of experience within the homeland security enterprise. The EKU Homeland Security curriculum emphasizes the areas of disaster management, critical infrastructure protection, intelligence studies and security operations. Courses focus on all hazards prevention, protection, response, recovery, and mitigation at the local, state and Federal level.

The program offers minors and university certificates in disaster management, homeland security, intelligence studies and security operations.

The program is offered on-campus in Richmond, Kentucky or 100% online. The audience for the program includes recent high school graduates, military personnel, and non-traditional students looking for career enhancement or new career opportunities.
