University of North Texas – Bachelor of Science Degree in Emergency Administration and Planning (EADP)

Established in 1983, the Emergency Administration and Planning (EADP) program offers the nation's first bachelor's degree program in emergency management. Housed in the Department of Emergency Management and Disaster Science, this program offers an innovative curriculum that emphasizes professional competency and critical thinking development. The coursework in the major integrates theory and practice through a multi-disciplinary and comprehensive approach in order to prepare students for emergency management and related careers in the public, private, and non-profit sectors. The EADP program embraces the all-hazards approach to introduce students to the physical and societal dimensions of a wide range of natural, technological, and human-induced hazards. Students in the program have opportunities to take courses in our Emergency Operations Center (EOC) lab, participate in our International Association of Emergency Managers – Student Chapter, register for study abroad courses focusing on international disasters, and complete internships locally, nationally, or abroad.

Program Requirements:

A minimum of 120 semester hours for all pre-career EADP students: for those with no professionally relevant work experience 42 hours must be advanced; for all other EADP students, 39 hours must be advanced.

Major course requirements include:

- EADP 3010 - Introduction to Emergency Management
- EADP 3035 - Disaster Mitigation and Preparedness
- EADP 3045 - Disaster Response and Recovery
- EADP 3055 - EOC Design and Operations
- EADP 3080 - Leadership and Organizational Behavior
