

Wright State University – Public Health Emergency Preparedness Certificate Program

The Public Health Emergency Preparedness Certificate Program is designed to provide a graduate level education to the public health workforce, including public health professionals, physicians, registered nurses, allied health care providers, hospital executives, public safety personnel, and emergency management officials. The program uses diverse educational experiences to highlight the interface between public health, emergency medicine, the "science" of bioterrorism, politics and organizational needs as required to manage public health emergencies.

Required Core Courses:

Required number of Credit Hours: 9

Course Title:	Credit Hours:
Principles of Emergency Management	3
Crisis and Consequences Management	3
Terrorism Preparedness	3

Wright State University is regionally accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (HLC).

For more information:

Contact: Mark Gebhart, MD
Director, Public Health Emergency Preparedness Certificate Program
Wright State University Boonshoft School of Medicine
3123 Research Blvd., Suite 200
Kettering, OH 45420
Phone: (937) 258-5555
Email: mark.gebhart@wright.edu

Additional information: <http://medicine.wright.edu/health-systems-and-policy/public-health-emergency-preparedness-certificate-program>

Updated: 9/6/2016

“Please note: Some of the Web sites linked to in this document are not federal government Web sites, and may not necessarily operate under the same laws, regulations, and policies as federal Web sites.”