

Assistant Professor of Emergency Management

Arkansas Tech University

About Arkansas Tech:

Founded in 1909, Arkansas Tech is a state supported, SREB four-year level III, liberal arts institution; the third-largest in the state with an enrollment close to 12,000 students. The Russellville campus, located in the scenic Arkansas River Valley between the Ozark and Ouachita Mountains, is just one hour from the capital city of Little Rock. Offering over 100 undergraduate and more than 25 graduate degree programs across seven academic colleges and two campuses, Arkansas Tech strives to provide a solid educational foundation for life-long learning to a diverse community.

Position Summary:

Assistant Professor of Emergency Management whose particular emphasis of teaching is International and Business Continuity/Mitigation courses.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:

- Develop and teach undergraduate and master's courses in International Emergency Management and Emergency Management Business Continuity, both online and face-to-face, in the Department of Emergency Management.
- Effectively advise students at the undergraduate and master's levels.
- Engage students in high impact learning practices.
- Develop a sustainable scholarship program including seeking external funds to support the program.
- Provide impactful departmental, college, university, and professional service relevant to the university, community, and state.

Required Qualifications:

Doctoral degree in Emergency Management or Related Field

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience developing and teaching International Emergency Management course
- Experience teaching EM Business Continuity course
- Experience teaching web-based college-level coursework
- Experience teaching student-present college-level coursework
- Experience teaching graduate-level courses
- Experience working with federal or governmental agency
- Proven record of excellence in teaching

- Proven record of excellence in advising
- Proven record of excellence in research and scholarship
- Experience utilizing current technologies for curriculum integration

Submission Documents:

Letter of Application, Curriculum Vita, copies of transcripts, and Contact Information for 5 references

To be considered for the Assistant Professor of Emergency Management position, all applications must be received and processed through our applicant tracking system Cornerstone prior to the closing date on November 28, 2016. Please go to <https://atu.csod.com/ats/careersite/search.aspx?site=1&c=atu> to apply now. The anticipated start date for this position will be August 2017.

This position is subject to a pre-employment criminal background check. A criminal conviction or arrest pending adjudication alone shall not disqualify an applicant in the absence of a relationship to the requirements of the position. Background check information will be used in a confidential, non-discriminatory manner consistent with state and federal law.

Arkansas Tech University is an AA/EOE employer committed to attracting and retaining a diverse workforce. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment.