COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course focuses on terrorism with its resulting havoc and disaster, and the emergency management response and mitigation of such events. It examines the definitions of terrorism and analyzes various domestic terrorist events, and attacks on US assets and facilities on foreign soil. Defining the terrorist tools of B-NICE-C and WMD. An examination of terrorist organizations and law enforcement’s attempts to infiltrate, mitigate or incapacitate their actions. Assessing political, legal, and governmental responses to terrorist’s threats and actions. A look at contingency planning, and what it means to apply an emergency management framework to terrorism. Federal, state, and local governmental jurisdictional problems: How each level’s organizational plans for preparedness, response, and recovery to terrorist activity, interface. Apprehending terrorists legally, affixing responsibility, and closure. Public actions in recovery efforts and restoration plans. Analysis of communication processes in terrorist situations, the control of anger, myth and rumors. Hijacking, commandeering, issues of hostage taking and hostage negotiation are addressed. The primary focus however is on EM mitigation, preparedness, the response to, and aftermath of terrorism

TEXTS

Prior to each class you will be expected to have read the text assignment for that week and be prepared to discuss the material in class and possibly answer questions on an unscheduled pop quiz.
METHOD OF EVALUATION

Performance and competency will be judged on the basis of the following criteria:

- Six exams (20 questions each) covering assigned reading material 30% of grade [Six exams worth 10 points each will be given. Three exams may be discarded]
- Two presentations, & 1-page outline handouts, of selected terrorist topics 20% of grade
- Emergency Management Terrorism Paper & 5 minute overview presentation: 20% of grade
  – Emergency Management Response to a Terrorist Incident or
  – Emergency Management Mitigation of a Potential or Terrorist Disaster
- Comprehensive Final Examination (30 T-F, M-C questions): 30% of grade

ATTENDANCE:

Regular attendance is a key to understanding this subject material, since much of the information emanates from interactive discussions and presentations in the classroom. Missing two or more classes (which is considered by this professor as excessive) may result in your being dropped and/or a lowering of your grade. Also arriving late or leaving early may result in grade lowering or be marked as an absence. If you decide to withdraw from class, it is your responsibility to do so through the attendance office. There will be no incompletes given in this class (which would require approval of the Registrar). Not completing the assigned paper, making presentations, or taking the final in this course will result in a grade of failure.
